An ever-blooming, heavy blooming, rugosa rose, Lotty's Love[®] Rose won a gold medal from the American Rose Society with one of the highest ratings ever. More refined than the species, this shrub is covered in beetroot purple, semi-double, cup-shaped blooms. The 3-4 inch diameter flowers have gold stamens, a strong cinnamon fragrance, and form into red hips in the fall. A landscape favorite for its cold hardiness and salt tolerance, the dark green foliage is also disease resistant.
